6. Storage of Your Information

1. The security of your personal information is important to us. Our company is established and headquartered in New Zealand with operations and offices elsewhere in the world. We store your personal information electronically on our secure servers in Sydney hosted by Amazon. These are full-service backups which give us the ability to quickly restore the service in case of an emergency. From time to time, we may securely transfer your personal information to our offices only where necessary in connection with our operations and providing our services to you. We will always endeavour to keep your data safe whenever we move it and will handle and transfer your personal information carefully and in accordance with applicable laws.

We follow generally accepted industry standards to protect the personal information submitted to us. However, no data storage or transfer mechanism is 100% secure so we cannot absolutely guarantee the security of your information. It is your responsibility to ensure that your access details (username and password) are kept private and to inform us if you believe that the security of your account has been breached. We currently follow the New Zealand Privacy Commissioner plan in the case of a data breach. Website / Privacy Breach Guidelines.

If you believe there has been a breach of privacy involving your personal information, please contact:

Writer's Toolbox Global Privacy Officer

Emailing us at support@wtbox.com

Writing to us at Postal address: PO Box 24687, Royal Oak, Auckland 1345, New Zealand,

Please note that we may need to verify your identity or authority before responding to your request. Once verified, we will respond to your request or query as soon as possible, and no later than 20 working days after we receive it.

2. Personally identifiable data (user name, user ID, and user email address) will be deleted as soon as possible after the relevant transaction has been completed. Writer's Toolbox must not retain customer personally identifiable information longer than necessary information be deleted, and the erasure is in accordance with relevant laws (including the UK and EU GDPR).

One of the reasons we retain your data for this period is to provide continuity in your service experience. For instance, if you or your school decide not to re-subscribe to our service for a period of time, we retain your account and historical data to ensure that, should you return, your previous work and information remain accessible and associated with your account. This enables you to track your progress and learning journey over multiple years. If your account remains inactive for a period of three years, we will delete your account and anonymise your learning data (Writing samples, tests, quiz responses, task, and performance indicators) so that it can only be used in a non-identifying manner for analysis by your school or used by us to improve our products.
